

Texas Canyon Nature Preserve at AMERIND

Connecting People, Tradition, and History

Texas Canyon Nature Preserve Trails | Frequently Asked Questions

Background: The Texas Canyon Nature Preserve on Amerind's private property covers 1,900 acres of grassland, iconic rock formations, oak and mesquite trees. The new trail system includes nearly 8 miles of self-guided walking trails, including the currently open 1-mile round trip Bird Pond Trail.

There are four trailheads with walking paths that are moderate in difficulty and quite approachable to most hikers. Visitors can choose distances that work best for them, given their available time and abilities.

Visitors can enjoy more learning experiences with interpretive signage and additional outdoor programming.

Fast Facts:

- Admission for trail access is separate and additional to the Museum & Art Gallery admission.
- Daily admission with trail access only: $12 per person. Daily admission to both trails and the museum: $20 per person. Trails are open Tuesday through Sunday, 8:30 AM to 3:30 PM. Amerind's main property gates are closed promptly at 5:00 PM.
- New offer coming soon! Nature Club Membership: an annual membership for the Texas Canyon Nature Preserve with unlimited trail access during hours of trail operation.
- No pets are allowed.
- Trained service dogs are allowed.
- Mountain biking, rock climbing, and horseback riding are prohibited.
- Access to trails is closed during wildfire season for public safety (April 23 to July 5).

Contact Information: Questions? Contact the Amerind Museum at 520-586-3666 or amerind@amerind.org

---

Support the Nature Preserve:

Generous community members have contributed over $250,000+ with their charitable giving to the creation of this unique trail system and nature preserve project. Interested in supporting the Nature Preserve?

Select naming opportunities remain available for benches along the path and at a main picnic area trailhead display. Contact Kelly Holt at 520-686-6172 or kholt@amerind.org for additional information.